

Student/Worker Power and Labor at the University of California: ETHN 198

A student facilitated practicum with a focus on UC policy and its effects on service workers.

We will discuss on-going labor disputes at UCSD and the UC system-wide, and how students can play an active role in organizing alongside workers. Particular attention will be paid to the role of student organizations in UC labor policy.

If you are interested in labor organizing, social justice, and a collectively facilitated educational space, please consider enrolling in ETHN 198 “Student/ Worker Power and Labor at the University of California”.

Course Instructor: Professor W. Yang
ETHN 198 counts as an Upper-Division, 4-Unit Course, in the Ethnic Studies Department as Pass/ No Pass
